Задание II

Steven: Hi, Jane! How are you?

Jane: Hi, Steven! Fine, thanks. And you?

Steven: I'm fine. You know, I'm writing an article for our school newspaper. It's about modern teenagers. You know what they look like and what they are like. Is it ok if I ask you a few questions?

Jane: Sure, no problem. I have some time before my next class.

Steven: Great. Then my first question. What do modern teenagers do to be good-looking?

Jane: I think all girls want to be slim. So they do not eat much and some of them experiment with their hair. I think in our school it's fashionable to have long straight hair. That's why very few girls wear their hair short.

Steven: And what about boys?

Jane: I can't say that they worry about how good they look. It's more important for them to feel strong and active. That's why they do sports. For example, many boys in my class play basketball.

Steven: I see. And what about you?

Jane: Well, if I want to feel that I'm good-looking, I put on some beautiful clothes. Clothes are very important for me. When I'm wearing a new dress or a fashionable jacket, I feel that I'm beautiful. I like it.

Steven: And how do you feel when you are wearing old jeans and a scruffy T-shirt?

Jane: I feel ugly. I don't like such clothes.

Steven: I understand. What is more important for you: to be good-looking or to be a good person?

Jane: I think it's more important to be a good person. We have a girl in our class who is very beautiful. She has long fair hair, blue eyes and a very pretty face. But she doesn't have friends because she is greedy and selfish. Nobody likes her.

Steven: Yeah, such things happen very often.

Jane: You know, I feel that only a kind heart makes a person good-looking. Also it's important to be modest even if you are a top model.

Steven: I agree. Thanks for your answers. We will publish them in our school newspaper next week.

Jane: Great! Thanks.

Задание IV

My Daddy

Hi, I'm Nick. My daddy is a teacher. He works at school. He likes his job. When he goes to work, he always puts on a suit, a white shirt, and a tie. He has a lot of suits, they are different in colour. My daddy has holidays four times a year: in autumn, summer, winter and spring. He likes his summer holidays very much as he can travel then. He usually goes to the South. He takes shorts and a lot of T-shirts, sandals and his swimming suit. In autumn he doesn't travel far as his holidays are short then. He usually goes to the country. He walks in the forest or goes fishing in the river. So he puts on his raincoat and boots as it often rains in autumn. He may also put on his other warm clothes: his sweater or a sweatshirt. He always takes his gloves with him. In winter he has two weeks for his holidays. He usually goes to the park to ski with his friends. So he puts on his warm sports trousers, a winter jacket, and a warm scarf. He doesn't wear gloves in winter; he always puts on his mittens. So this is how my daddy spends his holidays.
